

Sadia Akram

Sadia Akram is Programme Director for Forum for Discussion of Israel and Palestine (FODIP). She was recently the recipient of the national BEDSA award for bringing Jewish and Muslim women together through sports. Her previous positions include being Senior Governance Manager for Trafford Housing Trust's flagship development, Limelight in Old Trafford. She has a background in community cohesion and engagement. Her experience has been managing community related projects and implementing engagement techniques with communities.

Sadia is also a practitioner on building good relations and a Director for Good Relations Oldham – a programme to develop better relations between different communities across the North West. Sadia holds accreditation in Conflict Awareness and Resolution, Mediation and Philosophical Enquiry

Sadia has an extensive background of working in civic and social organisation, having worked with local housing and interfaith bodies in the Manchester area for over 10 years. She also has post graduate qualifications in Housing Practice and Policy and teaching English as a foreign language. Sadia's focus in recent projects with FODIP have been for women and young people.